NEWS AND VIEWS . . .

And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

"That's it as far as the courts are concerned." That has to be the best quote we have seen in the Abilene Reporter-News in a long, long time. This was a quote by Abilene attorney J. R. Black Jr., who along with Frank Scarborough and Beverly Tarpley, represented the plaintiffs in the suit against the Hamlin Hospital District.

For the first time since the initial decision went against them, the plaintiffs have no recourse of appeal, Black is quoted as saying.

In case you might have missed all of this, it was over on page 7-A in the Saturday morning's Reporter-News.

It may be just a coincidence but everytime something happened in favor of the plaintiffs they seemed to manage to get to the Reporter-News with it about as fast as we could learn it here. But when it went against them, the story seemed to break a little slower.

This we can easily understand but what we find a little harder to understand is how the stories were played. Their stories seemed to always make big front page headlines, while ours seemed to always find their way over on the inside somewhere.

But this too is probably understandable since the different and the ridiculous always make bigger headlines than the ordinary. And the plaintiffs' lawsuit against the district had met both these qualifications — different and ridiculous.

Now that the battle is apparently over, let's hope that we can get down to fixing up a first class hospital. No one knows just how long this will take but it cannot come any too soon for the people of Hamlin and this area.

A Columnist in The Dallas Times Herald recently penned an article on the virtues of small-town shopping. Dick Hitt tells of a weekend jaunt to see the azaleas and dogwood, and he discovered that shopping can be different away from the Metroplex.

Seems he decided to buy his son a pair of Tennis shoes while in Athens and made a series of discoveries about the "eccentric way people shop there."

"They do it completely different from many parts of the bustling Metroplex. First, you pick-out the store you want, and you do a thing call Park Right in Front of the Store. Then you walk right into the store and something happens to you that is called Being Waited On. "Things got really eerie when the

Three former superintendents were here for the dedication, they were C. F. Cook, Dr. Gordon Bennett and Ira Huchingson.

FIFTY YEARS AGO
(May 6, 1927)

The present membership of the Hamlin High Senior Class is composed of six boys and twenty-three girls as follows:

Charlie Ray Via, Henry Albritton, J. B. Adkins, Mackey Hill, Robert Hill, Virgil D Davis, Agnes Fry, Altadelle Poe, Bonnie Wayne Joiner, Ellenor Crowder, Edwina Gilbert, Elva Greenway, Estelle Newsom, Emma Anderson, Faye Tims, Geraldine Walters, Gladys Garrett, Gladys Warner, Hazel Jennings, Helen Craddock, Juanita McClaron, Laverne Watson, Louise Day, Louise Ferguson, Mable Hudson, Madge Howington, Margaret Adkins, Opal Cory, Ruth Proctor.

The 1927 Seniors are liberally contributing to a large class fund with which to buy some very much needed permanent school gift. Their desire is to furnish every Senior of next year with a six-dollar steel locker for the safe keeping of all Senior wraps, umbrellas, books, pens, pencils, etc. The total cost of the steel lockers will be about $200. Such a gift, no doubt, will be much appreciated by all future seniors of the Hamlin High School.

Hamlin Cotton Oil Mill is torn to pieces. Stacked all over the grounds. But not by a storm but through the plans and specifications of a re-building architect. Nothing but the massive seed storage house and the hull house stands of the old outfit.

J. E. Moody, Manager reports to the Herald, that a complete brand new building, all brick and concrete will replace the old building. Besides the new building there will be almost a complete new installation of machinery. Moody says that all shaftings will be fitted with ball-bearings and the latest in oil mill machinery is to be used. There will be an expenditure of more than $30,000 in making the improvements. When the new work is completed, Hamlin Cotton Oil Mill will be one of the best in the entire Western part of Texas.

The teachers and pupils of the Primary Department, feeling the need of a special gift to their department, recently gave to that department a modern Victrola costing $85. The music from the fifteen chosen records is very entertaining and beneficial, indeed, to the "little folks."

Over 150 Attend Neinda Reunion

The trustees of the Neinda Reunion and Homecoming reported that more than 150 oldtimers and visitors attended the 26th annual reunion April 17.

"Even though a much needed and appreciated rain fell Friday and Saturday before the reunion and caused many to not be present, those present enjoyed themselves very much for several hours," they said.

Due to illness, John R. Brown Sr. was absent for the first time in 25 years. He reported this week that the cemetery mounds were worked before the reunion and the alleys have been mowed since the rains.

Johnny Hester catered the noon meal.

Those attending were from Dallas, Arlington, Odessa, Midland, Glen Rose, Abilene, Hico, Amarillo, Grand Prairie, Lubbock, Irving, Corpus Christi, Roscoe, Miles, Roby, Rotan, Hamlin, Anson and McCaulley.

The trustees are Sam Hodges, R. P. Williams, Irby Weaver and Brown. They thank "everyone who had any part in making this annual event possible since 1951."

Use Care With Lawn Mowers

Lawn mowing can be hazardous to your health, especially if you disregard safety when using a power mower, says Kirby Clayton, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Every year 55,000 Americans are treated in hospital emergency rooms for injuries resulting from the use of power mowers. Many victims lose fingers or toes; some accidents prove fatal.

Most lawn mower accidents could be prevented with a few safety rules, contends Clayton.

The first rule in safe operation of a lawn mower is to become completely familiar with your machine. Read the owner's manual carefully. Make sure everyone who will be operating the lawn mower understands the controls and knows how to stop the engine quickly in case of an emergency.

Before mowing, clear the entire lawn area of sticks, stones, wire and debris—anything that could be thrown by the mower blade. Then get pets and small children out of the mowing area.

Disengage the clutch starting the engine. Keep your feet away from the blade when starting the engine.

Stop the engine whenever you leave the mower, if even for a moment. Always stop the engine and disconnect the spark plug wire if you intend to check or work on the mower.

Also stop the engine and allow it to cool before refueling. And use safety containers for gasoline.

Exercise extreme caution when mowing on slopes or wet grass and never pull the mower toward you.

Use a "plug-in" electric mower only when the grass is dry.

These few precautions can make lawn mowing a safe experience for you and your family, notes Clayton.

Natural gas does far more than heat your home!

GAS FIRES THE BRICK THAT THIS AREA'S CONSTRUCTION INDUSTRY WILL NEED TO BUILD A STRONGER ECONOMY.

As the building industry goes, so goes this area's economy. And the benefits of construction starts are all the greater when locally manufactured materials are used. Because more of the money stays at home to create more jobs.

Brick manufacturers in the Lone Star service area employ more than 10,000 people in making, distributing and selling brick. Many of these jobs depend directly on natural gas as the most efficient and economical source of heat for firing the brick.

Temperatures in the kilns run as high as 2,600 degrees F. the year around, and this takes a lot of gas. Brick plants served by Lone Star require more than 1.6 billion cubic feet annually. Now, with so many jobs at stake in this one industry alone, future gas supplies must be considered.

It's time to build job security.

Vast basins of natural gas, yet untapped, are crossed by Lone Star's pipeline system. A fact that puts Lone Star in one of the most favorable buying positions of any gas company. But, with steadily rising prices, the new gas will be expensive.

The risk is that companies in energy-short areas of the nation could wind up with the lion's share of these reserves as they are developed.

Buying enough gas to last this area far into the 21st century adds up to one inescapable fact. Both you and Lone Star will have bigger gas bills, because Lone Star cannot make the purchases without a fair return on the necessary investment.

But we're ready to invest in this area's future. If you are.

Lone Star Gas Company
Working energetically for your area's future.

Anaplasmosis can be spread when blood cells infected with a small parasite find entrance to the circulatory system of a susceptible animal, the county Extension agent explains. Large blood sucking flies—such as horse and deer flies—and in some areas ticks help spread the disease.

Man also can infect animals through the use of such equipment as vaccinating needles, dehorning tools, nose tongs and the like. Every effort should be made to sterilize these tools before use, and as each animal is worked.

An animal that has survived an attack of the disease may become a "carrier," from which biting insects may draw blood before biting other animals. Infection may be started in non-carriers when these animals are bitten and a small amount of the parasite-infected blood is injected. The biting insects are difficult to control by sprays or other control procedures, Clayton says.

Livestock producers who are aware of anaplasmosis problems in their areas should contact local veterinarians for advice on

State Sales Tax Representative Due In Anson

AUSTIN—Comptroller Bob Bullock announced he is sending a representative from his Abilene Office to Anson on Wednesday, May 11, to assist local taxpayers and answer questions about state taxes.

Bullock said Enforcement Officer Mona West will meet with local taxpayers at the Jones County Courthouse, Tax-Assessor-Collector's Office, from 8:30 a.m. until 12:00 noon.

Bullock reminded those taxpayers who are unable to meet with his representative on May 11th that they can still get their questions answered quickly by calling his toll-free tax information number in Austin. That number is 1-800-252-5555.

control programs to prevent the disease. A key to prevention is the identification of carrier animals in the herd. Blood from suspected carrier animals can be checked at a diagnostic laboratory for a confirmatory diagnosis of anaplasmosis or other diseases. The Texas Medical Diagnostic Laboratories are equipped to help diagnose this disease, working in cooperation with the local veterinarian.

Control measures that livestock owners can practice include testing and segregating "carriers" from other cattle, testing and treating infected animals to prevent spread of disease, vaccinating prior to the season when vectors can spread the disease, and low-level feeding of antibiotics during the insect season to help prevent the disease and reduce severity of new cases.

Goals of Beef Research and Information Program Outlined

What are the goals and purposes of the proposed beef research and information program?

If eligible livestock producers vote in favor of the beef checkoff program this spring, it is designed to project the establishment of projects for advertising, promotion, education, products, says Kirby Clayton, county Extension Agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Similarly, the program would allow for the establishment and conducting of research, market development projects and studies with respect to production, growing, sale, processing and distribution, marketing or utilization of cattle, beef and beef products, the Extension said.

The program also would include development and expansion of foreign markets.

The checkoff is designed as a self-help program, where the producer would be contributing three tenths of one per cent of the sales of his cattle. For example, for a producer to contribute $100 to the program, sales from his cattle would need to be $33,333 annually.

Nearly $40 million would be generated in the program's first year of operation, based on the assessment rate as outlined in the proposed program. The program would be administered by a Beef Board of not more than 68 members from eligible producer organizations of each state or geographical area. Texas should have a representation of about seven members on the Beef Board, to help determine how to checkoff monies would be spent.

Financing plans for the proposed Beef Research and Information Program have been tentatively outlined. The Act is Public Law 94-292, and is enabling legislation similar to that for wheat, potatoes, cotton and eggs.

"Funds would come from assessments on producers' receipts from sales of cattle," he explained.

The law sets a maximum check-off assessment rate of one-half of one per cent (0.5 per cent) of the live animal value, but for the first three years, the rate has been set at three tenths of one per cent. The funds would be collected according to a "value-added concept," which would assess all sellers in the marketing chain. The concept is similar to that of "pencil shrink."

However, emphasized the Extension agent, sales of breeding cattle may be exempt until the animals are sold for slaughter.

The initial purchaser in the marketing chain would deduct the amount of assessment from his payment to the succeeding purchaser. Each succeeding purchaser would deduct an assessment based on the current market value, representing an amount equal to the previous assessment plus an added assessment resulting from the animal's increased value during the seller's period of ownership.

"The purchaser at the point of slaughter would remit the assessment to the Beef

Board, as proposed in the Act. Consequently, packers would be responsible for maintaining records of the transactions, deducting the assessment from the sale of the animal and forwarding the money to the Beef Board.

Provisions of the Act also allow for producers not wishing to participate in the program to request and receive a refund upon application to the Beef Board. To qualify for this refund, however, the request must be made in writing and sent along with a copy of the sales slip—within a 60-day period after the end of the month in which the assessment was paid.

Based on an expected beginning assessment rate of 0.3 per cent of the value of each animal slaughtered, nearly $40 million would be generated in the program's first year of operation.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

All Girl Scouts who did not bring something for the bake sale last Saturday please bring a cake or 2 pies or cookies Saturday, May 7, at 8:30 a.m. in front of Piggly Wiggly. No cake mixes, please, and all troops are included. This money goes to pay for a 3M copying machine for the hut.

The first of three sessions of Girls Scout Day Camp training was held Monday at the Hut. Stella Payne, director, instructed the leader and helpers on basic procedures. The next sessions will be Monday, May 9, 9:30 a.m. at South Lake, and Saturday, May 21, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Camp Booth Oaks.

All girls who are going to attend Day Camp please get your registration fee in to your leader by May 15. Fees are not refundable. Any non-registered scout who wishes to attend day camp pay your $5.50 registration fee to Stella Payne or Peggy Welch.

This money is used for camp supplies, insurance, food to cook over campfires, rent, state license fee, etc.

We need Mothers to please help with the camp. There will be place at the campsite with an attendant for small children.

Hamlin has over 70 girls and must have one adult to every 5 brownie girl scouts. If you can help, please be at South Lake Monday, May 9, at 9:30 a.m. for training. We do not have enough adults to help at present time.

We will also need leaders for some troops for the next year. We have so many little girls who want to join Girl Scouts but we just do not have enough leaders. Remember one of the most important things you can give your child is time.

Over 60 Hamlin Brownie Girl Scouts and their leaders attended Brownie Day Saturday at Camp Booth Oaks, south of Sweetwater. A total of 470 Brownies from the West Texas Council region were at the camp. During the day the girls

hiked, slid down Tarzan Bluff, shared outdoor songs with other troops and saw a play about Booth Oaks' imaginary "Tajar," presented by Roscoe Cadette troop. The imaginary animal was not a tiger or a badger. After a trip back across the swinging bridge the girls had a picnic lunch and returned home.

Neinda Philosopher Comes Out With History's Simplest System of Taxing Our Incomes

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One comes out with a simplified tax system this week, surely with tongue in cheek, although you never can tell.

Dear editor: About this time of the year, a short while after income tax paying time, somebody comes out with a demand to simplify the tax forms and everybody agrees; that is, everybody except lawyers and other people who get paid for filling in the forms. One economist who had trouble understanding the complicated 1040 instructions which send you from one page to another and then back again, in language not even clear to the man who wrote it, came out with a simple plan. He says throw out all the forms, the deductions, the credits, etc., and just tax everybody 10 percent of his income, regardless of what it is. He claims this will bring in about the same tax revenue as the present complicated system, not to mention how much coffee it'll save for people who stay up late April 15 sweating over the thing. This plan is far too simple for the government to consider. The government isn't interested in something unless it's unreasonable. The plan however is sound, only it doesn't go far enough. Instead of taxing 10 percent of your total income, it ought to tax 10 percent of what you have left at the end of the year. This would suit everybody except those with a million-dollar income. They like the present system. Now the government will argue this wouldn't leave it enough to operate on. The same argument can be turned the other way: the present tax system doesn't leave some people enough to operate on either. But we're all facing days of austerity, we've been told, and the government shouldn't be exempt, although this goes contrary to the fundamental principles of politics. When a politician tells us to tighten our belts, he generally shows us how belts are adjustable by loosening his. Congress just recently taught us how to fight inflation by giving itself a 29 percent raise. Yours faithfully, J.A. VISIT DURING OPEN HOUSE—A large number of people took advantage of the open house Sunday to look over the new Hamlin school facilities. Some of those involved in the dedication ceremonies are shown here visiting in the foyer of the new middle school. They are left to right, Bob Hawes, superintendent; Marvin Carlton, principal; Alton Bowen, speaker; and Tommy Huckabee, architect.

NEWS AND VIEWS...

And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

"That's it as far as the courts are concerned." That has to be the best quote we have seen in the Abilene Reporter-News in a long, long time. This was a quote by Abilene attorney J. R. Black Jr., who along with Frank Scarborough and Beverly Tarpley, represented the plaintiffs in the suit against the Hamlin Hospital District.

For the first time since the initial decision went against them, the plaintiffs have no recourse of appeal, Black is quoted as saying. In case you might have missed all of this, it was over on page 7-A in the Saturday morning's Reporter-News.

It may be just a coincidence but everytime something happened in favor of the plaintiffs they seemed to manage to get to the Reporter-News with it about as fast as we could learn it here. But when it went against them, the story seemed to break a little slower.

This we can easily understand but what we find a little harder to understand is how the stories were played. Their stories seemed to always make big front page headlines, while ours seemed to always find their way over on the inside somewhere.

But this too is probably understandable since the different and the ridiculous always make bigger headlines than the ordinary. And the plaintiffs' lawsuit against the district had met both these qualifications — different and ridiculous.

Now that the battle is apparently over, let's hope that we can get down to fixing up a first class hospital. No one knows just how long this will take but it cannot come any too soon for the people of Hamlin and this area.

A Columnist in The Dallas Times Herald recently penned an article on the virtues of small-town shopping. Dick Hitt tells of a weekend jaunt to see the azaleas and dogwood, and he discovered that shopping can be different away from the Metroplex.

Seems he decided to buy his son a pair of Tennis shoes while in Athens and made a series of discoveries about the "eccentric way people shop there."

"They do it completely different from many parts of the bustling Metroplex. First, you pick-out the store you want, and you do a thing call Park Right in Front of the Store. Then you walk right into the store and something happens to you that is called Being Waited On. "Things got really eerie when the

Elementary Open House to End Observance of School Week

The observance of Texas Public School Week continues this week in Hamlin with the annual Open House for the Elementary Schools tonight (Thursday) from 6:30 to 8, according to Larry Butler, principal.

Butler said the entire community is invited to visit the various classrooms, view improvements on the buildings, visit with the teachers, and see the work being done by the students in kindergarten through the fifth grade.

The open house tonight will be the final formal observance of Public School Week in Hamlin that opened with the dedication and open house of the new auditorium and middle school Sunday afternoon. This special week was deferred here until all the new school facilities were completed and in operation, according to Superintendent Bob Hawes.

Both the high school and middle school held their regular open house here Tuesday evening when parents were invited to visit with the teachers and see their children's work.

Alton O. Bowen, Deputy Commissioner for Administrative Services, Texas Education Agency, gave the dedication address for the new school buildings Sunday. He praised the people of Hamlin for both their fine facilities and their educational program.

He made special mention of the number of pilot projects being carried out by the Hamlin School system. While he praised the new facilities, he pointed out that it is people that make a school system work and complimented the local board, administration and the teachers.

Three former superintendents were here for the dedication, they were C. F. Cook, Dr. Gordon Bennett and Ira Huchingson.

The dedication program was opened with a concert by the Hamlin High School Concert Band, under the direction of Tim Jones. About 400 to 500 people were on hand for the dedication, followed by tours of the new buildings.

Fourteen acts have been selected from the more than 100 acts auditioned during the local phase of the Rehab '78 TV Talent Search conducted in eight communities surrounding Abilene.

The fourteen local winners will compete for the honor of appearing on the Rehab '78 telecast for the West Texas Rehabilitation Center. The finals will be held this Saturday night beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the Abilene Civic Center.

James Hallmark, Media Co-ordinator for the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, said, "We have been most pleased with both the quality and variety of talent that we have found in the local phase of the Talent Search. I hope that we have a good crowd on hand Saturday night in the Civic Center because it's going to be a great show."

Winners from the preliminary talent shows include David Priest, Albany; Barry Adams, Cisco; B. W. Briggs and Harold Williams, Hamlin; Jaynee Grayson and Mark Miles, Colorado City; Breckenridge Boys Choir and Jannie Kelly, Breckenridge; Traci Tyree and Mona Kvapii, Ballinger; Max Jones and the Music Makers and the Concho Trio, Coleman; James Davis and Cindy Hattaway, Snyder.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

The present membership of the Hamlin High Senior Class is composed of six boys and twenty-three girls as follows: Charlie Ray Via, Henry Albritton, J. B. Addins, Mackey Hill, Robert Hill, Virgil D Davis, Agnes Fry, Altadelle Poe, Bonnye Wayne Joiner, Ellenor Crowder, Edwina Gilbert, Elva Greenway, Estelle Newsom, Emma Anderson, Faye Tims, Geraldine Walters, Gladys Garrett, Gladys Warner, Hazel Jennings, Helen Craddock, Juanita McClaron, Laverne Watson, Louise Day, Louise Ferguson, Mable Hudson, Madge Howington, Margaret Adkins, Opal Cory, Ruth Proctor.

The 1927 Seniors are liberally contributing to a large class fund with which to buy some very much needed permanent school gift. Their desire is to furnish every Senior of next year with a six-dollar steele locker for the safe keeping of all Senior wraps, umbrellas, books, pens, pencils, etc. The total cost of the steel lockers will be about $200. Such a gift, no doubt, will be much appreciated by all future seniors of the Hamlin High School.

Hamlin Cotton Oil Mill is torn to pieces. Stacked all over the grounds. But not by a storm but through the plans and specifications of a re-building architect. Nothing but the massive seed storage house and the hull house stands of the old outfit.

J. E. Moody, Manager reports to the Herald, that a complete brand new building, all brick and concrete will replace the old building. Besides the new building there will be almost a complete new installation of machinery. Moody says that all shaftings will be fitted with ball-bearings and the latest in oil mill machinery is to be used. There will be an expenditure of more than $30,000 in making the improvements. When the new work is completed, Hamlin Cotton Oil Mill will be one of the best in the entire Western part of Texas.

The teachers and pupils of the Primary Department, feeling the need of a special gift to their department, recently gave to that department a modern Victrola costing $85. The music from the fifteen chosen records is very entertaining and beneficial, indeed, to the "little folks."

"I found this primitive system so fascinating that darned if I didn't go back to town later and buy myself a shirt at a men's store. The owner thanked me for coming in and handed back the credit card without finger-printing me.

"Machines make all that noise for sixty-two cents?" I asked him. "Yeah, but there's a lot of information has to go in there," he said. "It's for our records, y'know."

Use Care With Lawn Mowers

Lawn mowing can be hazardous to your health, especially if you disregard safety when using a power mower, says Kirby Clayton, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Every year 55,000 Americans are treated in hospital emergency rooms for injuries resulting from the use of power mowers. Many victims lose fingers or toes; some accidents prove fatal.

Most lawn mower accidents could be prevented with a few safety rules, contends Clayton.

The first rule in safe operation of a lawn mower is to become completely familiar with your machine. Read the owner's manual carefully. Make sure everyone who will be operating the lawn mower understands the controls and knows how to stop the engine quickly in case of an emergency.

Before mowing, clear the entire lawn area of sticks, stones, wire and debris—anything that could be thrown by the mower blade. Then get pets and small children out of the mowing area.

Disengage the clutch starting the engine. Keep your feet away from the blade when starting the engine.

Stop the engine whenever you leave the mower, if even for a moment. Always stop the engine and disconnect the spark plug wire if you intend to check or work on the mower.

Also stop the engine and allow it to cool before refueling. And use safety containers for gasoline.

Exercise extreme caution when mowing on slopes or wet grass and never pull the mower toward you.

Use a "plug-in" electric mower only when the grass is dry.

These few precautions can make lawn mowing a safe experience for you and your family, notes Clayton.

Natural gas does far more than heat your home!

GAS FIRES THE BRICK THAT THIS AREA'S CONSTRUCTION INDUSTRY WILL NEED TO BUILD A STRONGER ECONOMY.

As the building industry goes, so goes this area's economy. And the benefits of construction starts are all the greater when locally manufactured materials are used. Because more of the money stays at home to create more jobs.

Brick manufacturers in the Lone Star service area employ more than 10,000 people in making, distributing and selling brick. Many of these jobs depend directly on natural gas as the most efficient and economical source of heat for firing the brick.

Temperatures in the kilns run as high as 2,600 degrees F. the year around, and this takes a lot of gas. Brick plants served by Lone Star require more than 1.6 billion cubic feet annually. Now, with so many jobs at stake in this one industry alone, future gas supplies must be considered.

It's time to build job security.

Vast basins of natural gas, yet untapped, are crossed by Lone Star's pipeline system. A fact that puts Lone Star in one of the most favorable buying positions of any gas company. But, with steadily rising prices, the new gas will be expensive.

The risk is that companies in energy-short areas of the nation could wind up with the lion's share of these reserves as they are developed.

Buying enough gas to last this area far into the 21st century adds up to one inescapable fact. Both you and Lone Star will have bigger gas bills, because Lone Star cannot make the purchases without a fair return on the necessary investment.

But we're ready to invest in this area's future. If you are.

Lone Star Gas Company
Working energetically for your area's future.

Producers Should Be Alert For Anaplasmosis Problems

Texas livestock producers should be on the alert for anaplasmosis in cattle, which may cause problems in herds again this year, warns Kirby Clayton, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Now is a good time to start thinking of preventing this infectious disease, which can be spread by biting insects or careless surgery with contamination equipment,"

Clayton says. Anaplasmosis can be spread when blood cells infected with a small parasite find entrance to the circulatory system of a susceptible animal, the county Extension agent explains. Large blood sucking flies—such as horse and deer flies—and in some areas ticks help spread the disease.

Man also can infect animals through the use of such equipment as vaccinating needles, dehorning tools, nose tongs and the like. Every effort should be made to sterilize these tools before use, and as each animal is worked.

An animal that has survived an attack of the disease may become a "carrier," from which biting insects may draw blood before biting other animals. Infection may be started in non-carriers when these animals are bitten and a small amount of the parasite-infected blood is injected. The biting insects are difficult to control by sprays or other control procedures, Clayton says.

Livestock producers who are aware of anaplasmosis problems in their areas should contact local veterinarians for advice on

control programs to prevent the disease. A key to prevention is the identification of carrier animals in the herd. Blood from suspected carrier animals can be checked at a diagnostic laboratory for a confirmatory diagnosis of anaplasmosis or other diseases. The Texas Medical Diagnostic Laboratories are equipped to help diagnose this disease, working in cooperation with the local veterinarian.

Control measures that livestock owners can practice include testing and segregating "carriers" from other cattle, testing and treating infected animals to prevent spread of disease, vaccinating prior to the season when vectors can spread the disease, and low-level feeding of antibiotics during the insect season to help prevent the disease and reduce severity of new cases.

Retired People To Meet Tonight

The American Association of Retired Persons will meet at the Jaycee Building at 6 p.m. today (Thursday) for a sandwich and salad supper.

A "tacky party" is being planned and prizes will be given to the "tackiest" man and woman. Table games will be played. All retired persons are urged to "come out for an evening of fun."

Goals of Beef Research and Information Program Outlined

What are the goals and purposes of the proposed beef research and information program?

If eligible livestock producers vote in favor of the beef checkoff program this spring, it is designed to allow the establishment of projects for advertising, promotion, education, products, says Kirby Clayton, county Extension Agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Similarly, the program would allow for the establishment and conducting of research, market development projects and studies with respect to production, growing, sale, processing or utilization of cattle, beef and beef products, the Extension said.

The program also would include development and expansion of foreign markets.

The checkoff is designed as a self-help program, where the producer would be contributing three tenths of one per cent of the sales of his cattle. For example, for a producer to contribute $100 to the program, sales from his cattle would need to be $33,333 annually.

Nearly $40 million would be generated in the program's first year of operation, based on the assessment rate as outlined in the proposed program. The program would be administered by a Beef Board of not more than 68 members from eligible producer organizations of each state or geographical area. Texas should have a representation of about seven members on the Beef Board, to help determine how to checkoff monies would be spent.

Financing plans for the proposed Beef Research and Information Program have been tentatively outlined. The Act is Public Law 94-292, and is enabling legislation similar to that for wheat, potatoes, cotton and eggs.

"Funds would come from assessments on producers' receipts from sales of cattle," he explained.

The law sets a maximum check-off assessment rate of one-half of one per cent (0.5 per cent) of the live animal value, but for the first three years, the rate has been set at three tenths of one percent. The funds would be collected according to a "value-added concept," which would assess all sellers in the marketing chain. The concept is similar to that of "pencil shrink."

However, emphasized the Extension agent, sales of breeding cattle may be exempt until the animals are sold for slaughter.

The initial purchaser in the marketing chain would deduct the amount of assessment from his payment to the original owner. Each succeeding purchaser would deduct an assessment based on the current market value, representing an amount equal to the previous assessment plus an added assessment resulting from the animal's increased value during the seller's period of ownership.

"The purchaser at the point of slaughter would remit the assessment to the Beef

Board, as proposed in the Act. Consequently, packers would be responsible for maintaining records of the transactions, deducting the assessment from the sale of the animal and forwarding the money to the Beef Board.

Provisions of the Act also allow for producers not wishing to participate in the program to request and receive a refund upon application to the Beef Board. To qualify for this refund, however, the request must be made in writing and sent—along with a copy of the sales slip—within a 60-day period after the end of the month in which the assessment was paid.

Based on an expected beginning assessment rate of 0.3 per cent of the value of each animal slaughtered, nearly $40 million would be generated in the program's first year of operation.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

All Girl Scouts who did not bring something for the bake sale last Saturday please bring a cake or 2 pies or cookies Saturday, May 7, at 8:30 a.m. in front of Piggly Wiggly. No cake mixes, please, and all troops are included. This money goes to pay for a 3M copying machine for the hut.

The first of three sessions of Girl Scout Day Camp training was held Monday at the Hut. Stella Payne, director, instructed the leader and helpers on basic procedures. The next sessions will be Monday, May 9, 9:30 a.m. at South Lake, and Saturday, May 21, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Camp Booth Oaks.

All girls who are going to attend Day Camp please get your registration fee in to your leader by May 15. Fees are not refundable. Any non-registered scout who wishes to attend day camp pay your $5.50 registration fee to Stella Payne or Peggy Welch.

This money is used for camp supplies, insurance, food to cook over campfires, rent, state license fee, etc.

We need Mothers to please help with the camp. There will be place at the campsite with an attendant for small children.

Hamlin has over 70 girls and must have one adult to every 5 brownie girl scouts. If you can help, please be at South Lake Monday, May 9, at 9:30 a.m. for training. We do not have enough adults to help at present time.

We will also need leaders for some troops for the next year. We have so many little girls who want to join Girl Scouts but we just do not have enough leaders. Remember one of the most important things you can give your child is your time.

Over 60 Hamlin Brownie Girl Scouts and their leaders attended Brownie Day Saturday at Camp Booth Oaks, south of Sweetwater.

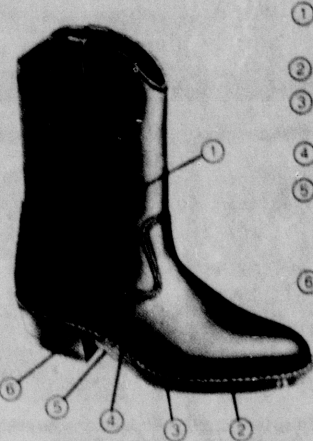

A total of 470 Brownies from the West Texas Council region were at the camp.

During the day the girls

THURSDAY, MAY 5, 1977, PAGE 7
hiked, slid down Tarzan Bluff, shared outdoor songs with other troops and saw a play about Booth Oaks' imaginary "Tajar," presented by Roscoe Cadette troop. The imaginary animal was not a tiger or a badger. After a trip back across the swinging bridge the girls had a picnic lunch and returned home.

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One comes out with a simplified tax system this week, surely with tongue in cheek, although you never can tell.

Dear editor:
About this time of the year, a short while after income tax paying time, somebody comes out with a demand to simplify the tax forms and everybody agrees; that is, everybody except lawyers and other people who get paid for filling in the forms.

One economist who had trouble understanding the complicated 1040 instructions which send you from one page to another and then back again, in language not even clear to the man who wrote it, came out with a simple plan. He says throw out all the forms, the deductions, the credits, etc., and just tax everybody 10 percent of his income, regardless of what it is. He claims this will bring in about the same tax revenue as the present complicated system, not to mention how much coffee it'll save for people who stay up late April 15 sweating over the thing.

This plan is far too simple for the government to consider. The government isn't interested in something unless it's unreasonable.

The plan however is sound, only it doesn't go far enough. Instead of taxing 10 percent of your total income, it ought to tax 10 percent of what you have left at the end of the year. This would suit everybody except those with a million-dollar income. They like the present system.
Now the government will

But we're all facing days of austerity, we've been told, and the government shouldn't be exempt, although this goes contrary to the fundamental principles of politics. When a politician tells us to tighten our belts, he generally shows us how belts are adjustable by loosening his. Congress just recently taught us how to fight inflation by giving itself a 29 percent raise.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.
